Adverbs: How, When, and Where

Adverbs are words that tell how, when, where, to what extent, and why. Cut out the adverbs from the word sort page. Glue them in the column that shows what that adverb describes: Does it tell how, when, or where something happened? Be careful! There are three words that are NOT adverbs.

| How? | When? | Where? |
|-------------|-----------|------------|
| joyously | never | above |
| quickly | now | around |
| sadly | often | away |
| frantically | recently | below |
| gently | today | downstairs |
| foolishly | early | outside |
| cruelly | tomorrow | there |
| wildly | always | wherever |
| safely | yesterday | up |
| well | late | here |
