POSSIBLE ANSWERS

In Backwards World, everything is the opposite as it is here on Earth. The same moon comes up every morning and the sun comes up every night. People feel sun depressed about holidays and everyone hates ice cream. In excited Backwards World, people are rude with their neighbors and everyone says loves goodbye when they see friends in town. Families have breakfast hello

together and then spend the evening crying as they watch their favorite TV show. When laughing it's time for bed, all the children in Backwards World open their eyes and dream close about how different things must be on planet Earth. similar
