

Clueing In!

Yesterday was the day of our final basketball championship! Our coach told the team that we needed to stick together so that we could win the game. He told us that we needed to cooperate with each other, help each other, and focus on scoring. There was no time for bad attitudes! Even when I had to sit on the bench, I cheered for my teammates! Our team worked really well together and we ended up winning the game. It was the best day of my life!

I wonder about the phrase: I wonder about the phrase: stick together
