Goldilocks and the Five Beginnings

Draw a line from the story starter to the type of beginning.
The first one is done for you.

A girl named Goldilocks went for a walk in the forest. She came upon a house, knocked, and when no one answered, walked right in.

“Grrr,” rumbled Goldilocks’ stomach as she approached the small house in the forest.

Who might live in the middle of a forest? Goldilocks didn’t stop to think about that, or the unusually large door, as she walked into the house.

Goldilocks pushed her shiny blond hair out of her eyes and blinked. There was a wooden house in the forest! Maybe she could find a tasty snack.

Everyone gets hungry sometimes. A girl named Goldilocks happened to feel especially hungry one day on a walk through the forest.
