

Name _____ Date _____

Homophones:

Who's or Whose

Who's and whose sound the same, but they have different meanings!

- Whose is a possessive pronoun. Whose dog is it?
- Who's is a contraction meaning "who is."
My mom is someone who's always thinking of others.

Complete the sentences with the correct homophone: who's or whose.

1. Tommy is a boy whose dog can play cool tricks.
2. Whose car is parked in the driveway?
3. I know the kid whose bike is red.
4. Aunt Marie is a person who's kind and cheerful.
5. Whose shoes are in the hallway?
6. I think I know who's making that squeaky sound.
7. This party is awesome! Whose idea was it?
8. Who's coming to the park this weekend?

