

The use of I and me

- The word I is used in the subject of a sentence.
- ◆ The word me is used in the predicate of the sentence.
- Write I or me on the blank line for each sentence.

Example: Nixon and I went for a walk.

- The pronoun I is used because it falls in the subject of the sentence.

Nixon went on a walk with me.

- The pronoun me is used because it falls in the predicate of the sentence.

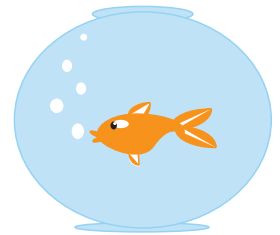

1. Terry and I are going to the fair for cotton candy.

2. Would you like ME to grab some crackerjacks?

3. I am going to get ice cream as well.

4. Tommy is going to watch ME win a goldfish.

5. Tiffany and I had fun riding the ferris wheel.

6. You should meet ME at the dunk tank.

7. I want to get a funnel cake with strawberries on top.

8. Drake and Ali ran into ME on the bumper cars.

9. Next time my cousin is going to the fair with ME .

10. I am going to the fair every year!