

Name: _____

Date: _____

Answers (Answers will vary)

Naming Narratives and Nonfiction

Read the summaries of the narrative and nonfiction books below. Write a catchy title that matches the description of the book.

Example:

Book Description: Many animals in our world have special abilities, like running fast, soaring high in the sky, or creating astounding shelters for themselves. This book explains the special features of many of those animals.

New Title: Amazing Animals

1. Book Description: Little did his teacher know, Josh was a genius! In this book he surprises everyone with quick responses in the most unexpected ways.

New Title: The Whiz Kid

2. Book Description: For some people, Wednesdays are just a day in the middle of a week, but in the town Jonesville, Wednesdays are especially unusual. The author of this book tells a story about how a new girl in town discovers and responds to the strangest day of the week.

New Title: Wacky Wednesdays

3. Book Description: With plenty of pictures and explanations, this book is all about the cracks and other changes that are caused by earthquakes.

New Title: Earth Shattering Earthquakes

4. Book Description: All about young inventors, this book tells how a group of kids use their imaginations to create inventions that are out of this world!

New Title: Imagine That!

5. Book Description: In this book, Rover overcomes all odds, winning many races against the other dogs in the neighborhood.

New Title: Rover, the Race Dog

