

Possible Answers Picture This Inference

Look at each picture carefully, then connect what you see in the picture to your background knowledge to make an inference about what is going on in the picture.

Picture	What do you see in this picture?	What personal experiences do you have that can help you make a connection?	What can you infer about what is happening in the picture?
	I see two people sitting at a table with cups. They are smiling at each other.	I know that people usually drink coffee from cups that look like the ones in the picture. I smile when I am with friends.	I think these two friends are happy to be drinking coffee together.
	I see a boy in bed. He has a towel on his forehead. He has a sad expression on his face. An adult is standing over him holding a bowl.	When I am sick, I have to stay in bed to rest. My mom puts a wet washcloth on my head and she gives me soup to eat. I usually feel sad when I am sick.	I think this boy is sick and his mom is offering him soup.
	I see a dog holding an empty bowl in its mouth. It has a sad expression on its face.	When my cat is hungry, she sits near her empty bowl and meows at me. If I was hungry, I would probably look sad too.	I think the dog is begging for food because it's hungry.
	I see a person with a sad expression on his face. Two people are standing nearby. One has a hand near her mouth and they are looking at the first person.	When people whisper secrets, they hold their hand like the girl in the picture. Usually if people are whispering and looking at someone, they are talking about them. If someone was telling secrets about me, I would feel sad. Since the person on the left is alone, they might feel left out.	I think some people are telling rumors about a kid, who feels lonesome.