

Name: _____

Date: _____

Answer Key

Point of View: A Surprising Setback

1. Who is telling the story?

A narrator is telling the story.

How do you know?

I know that a narrator is telling the story because I can tell it is a person who is not in the story. I see words such as he and they. Also, the story includes the names and titles of all the characters.

2. What is Leo's opinion about having to rest his injured ankle?

Leo's disappointed about having to rest his injured ankle. However, he remains positive and works hard to rest and do the exercises his doctor told him to do.

3. Leo continues to support his team even though he is unable to practice and play in the games with them. Explain how you would feel in the same situation.

Student answers will vary

4. Rewrite a part of the story from the point of view of Leo's coach.

Student answers will vary