

Name: _____

Date: _____

A Super Cool Thanksgiving

Prompt:

Waiting for Thanksgiving dinner can feel like forever! Read the story of how a brother and sister fill their boring Thanksgiving day. Then, rewrite the story from the sister's point of view or Josef's point of view.

Thanksgiving Day was hot. Up until that day, the fall weather had been crisp and cool. The leaves had changed colors and floated to the ground. The weather always changed, but it never got that hot on Thanksgiving.

Arvan and his sister Monica sat on their front porch. They sat in the shade. That Thanksgiving was not normal. Their cousins didn't come over. Arvan and Monica didn't want to sit inside with all the grown-ups. They went outside to find something to do.

Then they heard footsteps. Arvan and Monica looked up to see their friend Josef. He held their favorite summer toy. Josef had taken his Super Soaker out of the garage. He had filled it up and was ready to cool down the neighborhood. Arvan and Monica's boring Thanksgiving Day turned into one they would remember for a long time!

Name: _____

Date: _____

A Super Cool Thanksgiving
