Hieroglyphics

Hieroglyphics were started in Egypt. They were images carved in to temples and many buildings in ancient times. The images represented sounds that twhen combined make a word. Sometimes the images represents what the images is, like water , reeds , or the sun .

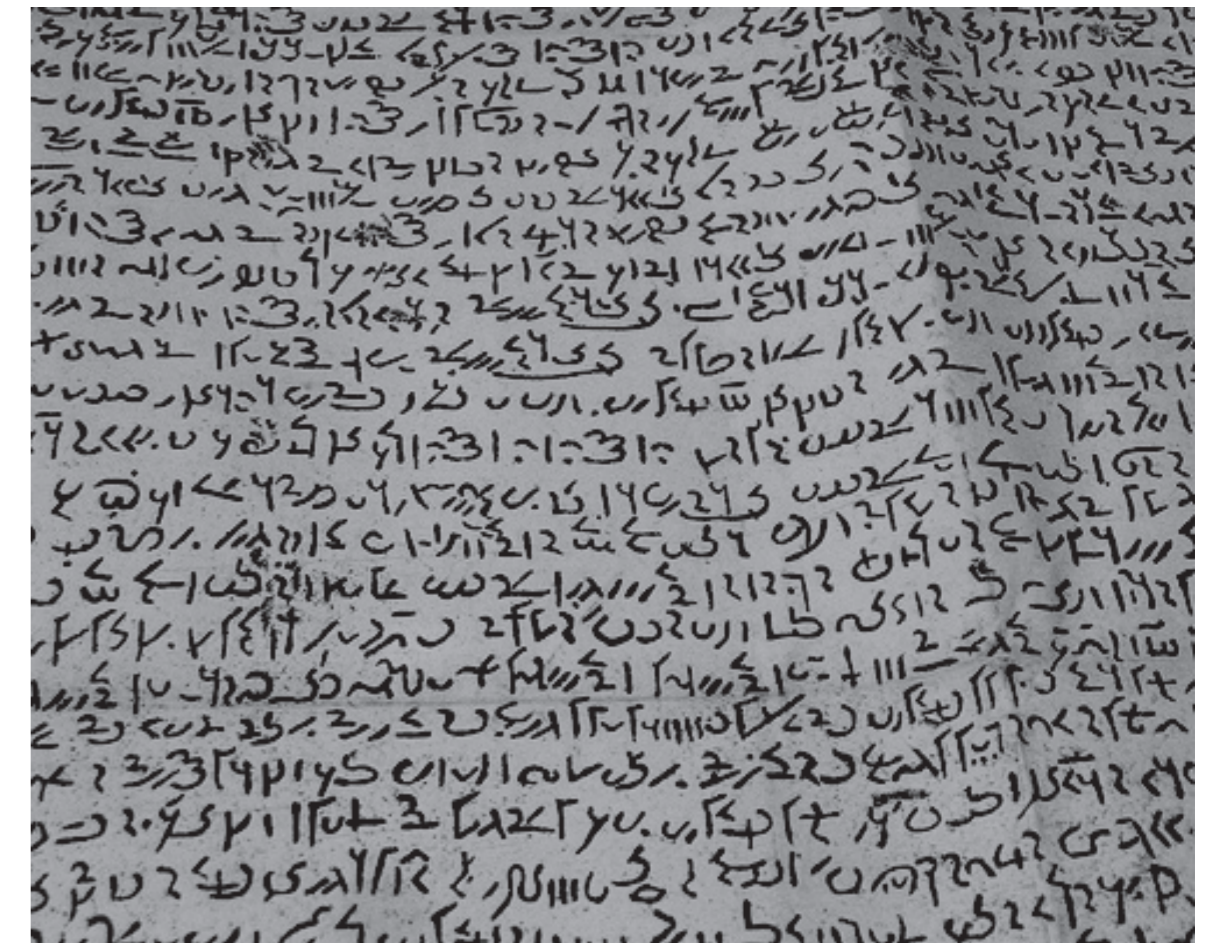

Greek and Roman writing is partially based on ancient Egyptian writing, and thus, our own modern writing is based on it.

Hieratic

Hieratic is a writing that came after hieroglyphics. It is seen by most experts to be a common version that the people of ancient time used for their own writing. It is often seen on papyrus with ink and reed pen, rather than carved in stone. The writing was used by scribes who needed a shorthand version of hieroglyphics.

Demotic

Demotic writing is similar to Hieratic writing. It is the last known ancient Egyptian writing. Demotic is seen in the latest periods of Egyptian times, before the invasion of the Romans. By this time, most Egyptian citizens could read and write. Small stones are found all throughout Egypt with this type of writing on it. Some are lists, other are simple personal notes.
