

Australia, the Land Down Under

The Australian Bilby

The bilby sleeps during the day and feeds during the night. It lives in desert areas. Its fur is soft and silky, and it is the size of a rabbit. It eats insects, seeds, spiders, bulbs, fruit and very small animals. It digs and scratches for its food and uses its long tongue, too.

