

Check out the View!

During your flight, you might pass over water. Imagine, then draw all the different kinds of things you might see on the surface of the water, as well as what swims below.

