

CHINESE ZODIAC MATH

In Chinese culture, the year you were born says a lot about you! On the Chinese zodiac, each year is given an animal to represent it. It is said that people that share the same zodiac animal have similar personality traits.

The Chinese year begins in February.
Use the zodiac above to answer the questions below.

1. Maria was born on March 21, 2007. What is her zodiac sign?
2. If Maria's younger cousin was born in the year of the tiger, how many years apart are they?
3. If it is the year of the horse now, what zodiac year will it be 9 years from now?
4. Three-year-old Dexter was born in the year of the sheep. His new baby brother Sam will be born in the year of the pig. What zodiac symbols will pass in between their birthdays?
5. How many years apart will Dexter and Sam be?
