

These are the Three Musketeers. They were the best of the former king's musketeers. When the king officially disbanded his musketeers, this proud and brave three refused to put down their swords! They instead set out on a mission to selflessly protect king and country. All for one and one for all!

