

Endangered species are plants or animals that are in danger of becoming extinct.

Sierra Nevada Bighorn Sheep are endangered animals that live in North America. Bighorn Sheep can climb very steep rock faces, allowing them to take refuge where few predators can follow.