

Norway
Capital : Oslo

Norwegian Fjords

Glaciers carved their way through bedrock leaving steep cliffs, a narrow passage and deep waters. Norway fjords are known for their beauty and wealth of fish. The biggest one, called Sognefjord, stretches 127 miles inland. Many of the fjords also have coral reefs, diverse underwater habitats.