

Match the Crops to the Products

Did you know that the Earth has many natural resources? Natural resources are materials that people, animals, and plants need in order to survive. One resource that we can't go without is water. Sometimes we use resources for specific tasks. For example, we use water, sunlight, and soil to grow crops of fruits, vegetables, and grain. These crops, or large amounts of food, are harvested to make different products that we use daily.

Directions: Below are four types of crops. Look at the products listed to the side of the crops. Match the product to the correct crop.
