

What's the Main Idea?

Read the sentences below. Cut each one out. Decide which sentence is the main idea and which sentences are the supporting details. Then, arrange the sentences with the main idea in the top box and the details in the bottom box.

A triangle has three sides.

A square looks like a box.

A circle is round.

There are many kinds of shapes.