

Name _____

Date _____

Chinese New Year Counting

Draw the Citrus on the Tree

During Chinese New Year, small citrus plants are given as gifts and displayed for good luck and prosperity — usually in pairs to symbolize a “doubling” of wealth.

According to custom, the trees should have an odd number of orange or gold colored fruit, like kumquats, mandarins, or oranges.

Below, draw the number of citrus fruits on the tree shown.

Example: Draw 11 fruits

a. Draw 17 fruits

b. Draw 23 fruits

c. Draw 15 fruits

d. Draw 19 fruits

e. Draw 21 fruits

