

Draw the Shades of Meaning With Pictures #2

Some words are alike, but they have small differences that change their meaning. Those differences are called shades of meaning.

For example, think about the words clock and watch.

clock	goes on a wall or table
watch	goes on your wrist

A clock and a watch are both objects that tell the time, but they are used differently.

Directions: Draw an image under each word to show its meaning. Make sure the images show how the two words in each pair are different!

1.	cold	freezing

2.	yard	garden

3.	whisper	talk
