

The God Anubis (Inpu)

Anubis is the Greek name for Inpu, the god of the dead. He helped usher the dead through the underworld, and he was the patron of mummification. The jackal head is painted black, representing the Nile river where all life begins and ends.