

Correct the Homophones

Homophones are words that sound alike, but have different meanings.
Correct the sentences below by replacing the italicized word with the right homophone.

I here Bob and Ben singing.

I stayed with my grandparents for three weaks.

Wood you like to watch the football game with me?

I red that book last summer. It's very interesting!

We took a plain to Hawaii.
