

Halloween Hyperboles

Hyperboles are exaggerations which are obviously untrue, often used in speaking or writing to make the story more interesting.

For example, "Sean is so hungry, he says he could eat a horse. He really is a bottomless pit."

Directions: Complete each sentence with a hyperbole.

1. I've eaten so much candy, I _____
_____.
2. That kid's zombie costume is _____
_____.
3. We went to a frightening haunted house. When I was there, it felt as though my heart _____.
4. Mateo's elaborate jack-o-lantern is the _____
_____ I have ever seen.
5. My cousin went trick-or-treating for _____ hours. He came home with _____ of candy.
6. Why don't you join our pumpkin carving party? We have so many pumpkins, we could _____ !
7. Samantha carved her pumpkin quickly. She was finished in _____
_____.

