Fiona has trouble using her homophones. Homophones are words that sound the same but have different spellings and different meanings. Find each of the eight misused homophones in her e-mail. What words should she have used instead?

What's up, Jill?

I just got home from the concert. It totally blue me away. The guitar player was ripping sweet cords and the beets were amazing. I had a great view, too. I was in the middle of a hoard of people at the foot of the stage. I don't mean to be vein, but I think the lead singer was looking write at me! I wish you could have been their.
