

Your

Life Cycle

Humans also go through stages of growth and development. You began life as a baby. Do you remember how you looked? Draw your baby self in circle number 1. In circle number 2, draw what you look like now. What is different about you than when you were a baby? In circle number 3, draw what you will look like when you become an adult. Maybe you will become a doctor, a scientist or an astronaut.

