

SCIENCE TIME : MERCURY

Mercury is the smallest and nearest planet to the Sun in our Solar System. The planet is named after the Roman god, who was a messenger. The outer layer of Mercury is the rocky CRUST, followed by the MANTLE, which is made up of silicates. The iron CORE at the center of Mercury is very large.

Label each layer of Mercury below using what you've learned.

