In Morse codes, prosigns or procedural signals are not actual words, but they do have a meaning written in "code". For example, you may see on cartoons or movies "S.O.S." and wonder why they use that when they are on a stranded island. Well, it's a code that stands for "Save Our Souls" and the code is written as ●●●▬▬▬●●● and the sign is written $\overline{SOS}$.

sign	code	meaning	mnemonic
$\overline{AS}$	●▬ ●●●	Wait	wait "A Sec"
$\overline{BK}$	▬●●● ▬●▬	Break	N/A
$\overline{CL}$	▬●▬● ●▬●●	Going of the air	"CLear" or "Closing down"

Now that we cracked their code, let's make one of our own for them to crack for themselves!
