

Maya Lin

© ThuVienTiengAnh.Com

Asian-Pacific American
Heritage Month

Maya Lin is an artist, sculptor and landscape artist. At age 21 while still a college student, she submitted a design for the Vietnam Veteran's Memorial in Washington, D.C. and won. The memorial is now a well-known and respected national landmark. She now owns her own design studio in New York City and designs landmarks, sculptures, architecture and art installations around the country.

