MEANS OF TRANSPORTATION

Means of transportation is just a fancy way of saying the ways we travel! And not just the way we travel, but how food, water, and other stuff gets from one place to another.

Have you ever looked at all the fruits and vegetables in the grocery store and wondered where they came from? Some of the food probably grew hundreds of miles away, travelling from different countries to a store nearby your home.

We also use transportation to share ideas. Computers, phones, and television are a few examples of how ideas travel from one place to another.

Other ways of travel include moving people across the street, across a town, and even across the world! Cars, bikes, boats, busses, and trains are just a few objects people have created to make travel easy and fast.

Under each example below, write out how the object is used for travel.
