

P is for Piñata

A piñata is made of cardboard and paper and is filled with candy or toys. A piñata can be made in almost any shape you like, from animals to cartoon characters. Kids take turns trying to break the piñata open with a bat or stick. When it opens up, all the treats come out! You might see a piñata at a birthday party or on other holidays like Mexican Independence Day.

There are treasures falling from the piñata! Color the candy blue, the toys green, and the confetti red.
