The HISTORY
OF AMERICAN FASHION

In the 1950s, American families had money to spend...and also to lend to their teenage children. Teenagers became a demographic, and they began to buy rock 'n' roll records and movie tickets, and dressed like their favorite singers and actors.

Works better when printed on thicker paper!