

Name _____

Date _____

Possessive Apostrophes

With Punctuation Pig

Hi! I am Punctuation Pig. Let's learn about how apostrophes show the correct possessive form of a noun. Apostrophes are added to the end of a singular or plural noun to show possession.

Here is an example:

singular: girl + 's = girl's • plural: girl + s' = girls'

Now you try! Form the correct possessive form of the noun.

Write your answer on the line.

- _____ hands are cold because she has no gloves.
Emily
- Samuel went to buy his _____ birthday present.
mother
- _____ roast chicken and gravy was very yummy!
Dad
- Bella borrowed _____ phone to listen to music on the long drive.
Hita
- The _____ classrooms were peaceful and calming.
teacher
- This _____ blooming flowers are a sign that spring is here.
tree
- _____ house is facing the _____ house.
Boupha Lee
- All the _____ uniforms were covered in grass stains after _____ soccer game.
today

Write a sentence using the correct possessive form of each noun.

- mermaid _____
- ninjas _____
- Officer Gwan _____
- Feldmans _____