

What is

Photosynthesis

Study the picture below. Then use the diagram labels to complete the sentences at the bottom of the page.

Photosynthesis is a process that plants use to breathe and to make food. They use the _____ from the sun, along with _____ in the soil and a gas called _____ to make _____, which feeds the plant. During this process, _____ is released into the air.