

PRONOUNS IN COMPOUND SUBJECTS AND OBJECTS #2

When we use pronouns in compound subjects or objects, it can be hard to tell which pronoun is correct. You can try looking at the sentence without the other noun to help you decide whether to use the subject or object pronoun.

Example: Last summer, (she/her) and Lena took a pottery class at the community center.

Last summer, she took a pottery class at the community center.

Example: The tour guide showed (he/him) and Miles the entrance to the hidden stairway.

The tour guide showed him the entrance to the hidden stairway.

Directions: Circle the correct subject or object pronoun to complete each sentence.

- Stopping to take pictures of the caribou at dusk was the best decision my sisters and (I/me) made on our trip through Denali National Park.
- Ever since I binge-watched the show's first three seasons with Kenzie and (they/them), I haven't been able to get the theme song out of my head.
- (He/Him) and Sheena baked macadamia nut brownies for the nursing staff at Willow Gardens Hospital.
- Garret and I planned a camping trip so that (we/us) and our friends could visit a national park together.
- The new neighbors were amused when they saw Mae and Caleb's pot-bellied pig greet (they/them) and their friends at the door after school.
- Chef Mona told us that if we have any questions about the new menu, we could ask Elijah or (she/her).
- Jordan was recently given tickets for (he/him) and Louis to attend the Van Gogh exhibit.
- Did (she/her) and Mack decide to train together for the martial arts tournament?
- Once Aunt Samara retired from her job, she had more time to visit my dad and (I/me).
- As the weather gets nicer, Enzo and (I/me) spend more time paddleboarding on the bay.
- Coach Abrams trusts (she/her) and the rest of the team to correctly set up the net and start practice on time.
- Our new tenant Briana surprised the neighbors and (we/us) with jars of homemade raspberry jam.
- If the twins decide to join the band, (they/them) and Rohan will need to discuss a rehearsal schedule.
- Carly and (he/him) plan to dissect either a flower or an owl pellet for this week's science investigation.
- Personally, I think that Abigail Stewart is the best candidate for mayor, but let's keep that between you and (I/me) for now.
- It was a shock, to say the least, when my brothers spotted a black bear watching our cousins and (we/us) through the window of our rental cabin in the Smoky Mountains.