

SUMMER FUN:

Put the Story Sequence in Order

Number the sentences below in the correct order to create a short story.

- _____ “I’ll help you with the rest!” says Ichiro to Kenzo. “Thanks!” exclaims Kenzo.
- _____ Ichiro and Kenzo run quickly to their messy room to change into swimming trunks.
- _____ Finally, after applying sunblock, Ichiro and Kenzo have a fun summer day running back and forth through the sprinklers!
- _____ Ichiro is ready to go play when he is done, but he does not want to play without his little brother.
- _____ They almost make it out the back door when their mom stops them. “Where do you think you are going? You can’t play in the sprinklers until you both clean your room!”
- _____ When Ichiro and Kenzo are all done, their mom inspects the room. Then she says, “Good job, boys! You can go play in the sprinklers now, but first you have to wear sunblock.”
- _____ Both Ichiro and Kenzo groan as they walk back to their room. There are clothes and toys all over their beds and on the floor!
- _____ Ichiro throws his dirty clothes in the hamper, then folds his clean clothes and neatly stacks them in the drawers. Kenzo picks up all of his toys and puts them into his toy box.
- _____ It is a hot summer day, and Ichiro yells to his little brother Kenzo, “Let’s go play in the sprinklers!”
- _____ Kenzo is taking a longer time cleaning up because his mess is bigger. He still has to fold his clean clothes!
