Writing Prompt

You wake up on April Fools' Day to realize that you are reliving the worst day of your life. What happened on that day? Tell a story about your experience reliving the worst day; is there anything you can do differently on this day to change things?