

One day a wolf came by.

“Little house, little house!
Who lives in the little house?” he called.

“I am a mouse,” said the mouse.

“I am a frog,” said the frog.

“I am a rabbit,” said the rabbit.

“And I am a fox,” said the fox. “And who are you?”

“I am a wolf,” said the wolf. “May I come in?”

“Of course,” said the animals, and the five then lived together.