

THERE, THEIR, & THEY'RE

These words sound the same, but they have different meanings.

THERE

refers to a place

Daniel put his book over there on the counter.

There is a new community center.

THEIR

shows ownership or possession

Sasha and Thea won their basketball game last night.

Their dog loves to go for long walks.

THEY^ARE

contraction for "they are"

They're excited to go to the amusement park.

I heard they're going camping next weekend.