

Who Said That?

You can guess a lot about a person based on what they have to say. Take a look at these quotes from some of America's great heroes. Can you match each quote with the hero who said it?

"The way I figured it, I was even with baseball and baseball with me. The game had done much for me, and I had done much for it."

"The only thing we have to fear is fear itself."

"All I was doing was trying to get home from work."

"I only regret that I have but one life to give for my country."

"That's one small step for man, one giant leap for mankind."

"Those who contemplate the beauty of the earth find reserves of strength that will endure as long as life lasts."

Hints

Franklin Delano Roosevelt: President of the United States of America during World War II

Neil Armstrong: The first man to walk on the moon

Rosa Parks: An African American civil rights activist who refused to give up her seat on a bus

Rachel Carson: A writer and early supporter of the environmental movement

Nathan Hale: A soldier during the American Revolution

Jackie Robinson: The first African American Major League baseball player