Writing With Technology Choice Board

There are many different ways to produce and publish written material, especially with the help of technology. Choose a project type from the list below, and get started! Remember to consider which option would work best for your intended purpose and audience, and be sure to revise and edit your writing before publishing.

Record a Podcast

Use an audio recording app to record and produce your own podcast.

Make a Video

Film and edit a video using a video editing software.

Design an E-book

Turn your writing into an e-book with storybook creation software.

Create an Infographic

Make your informational text eye-catching and interactive by creating a digital infographic.

Graphic Novel

Use a comic creation app to create a graphic novel version of your narrative.

Website

Design your own website to share your writing with the world.

Digital Magazine

Create a digital magazine to showcase a collection of related articles.

Song/Album

Transform your poetry into a musical format using audio production software.

Interactive Timeline

Use a timeline creator to make an interactive timeline of events.

★ Be a good digital citizen! Make sure you have permission to use any images, audio, or video that you choose to include in your published product. And don't forget to cite all of your sources!
