

Name: _____ Date: _____

Writing with Unexpected Details

Make your writing more interesting by adding details that will surprise your audience! Adding vivid adjectives and adverbs will help your readers visualize the things you are writing about.

Underline the adjectives and adverbs in each of the examples. Then get creative and rewrite the sentences below to make them come alive.

Examples:

Peter saw a tree.

Peter saw a towering sequoia tree stretching ominously toward the dark sky.

I sat on the couch.

I lazily sat on the couch and sank deep into its plush, velvety cushions.

1. Marmalade is a cat.

2. My room is quiet.

3. Paloma walked to school.

4. The dog barked.

5. The cemetery is dark.

6. Logan's party was fun.
